Room Hire

Zoë Brooks, Company Secretary writes:

The College and many of our Societies hire out rooms to other organisations. At present this cannot happen because of the Government ban on gatherings of people. Obviously at some stage there will be a gradual relaxation of the restrictions and a body that hires a room from one of our churches has asked what plans we have for personal safety such as social distancing, sanitising etc. when we do re-open. This raises the question as to what extent we will be responsible for such matters and to what extent they are the responsibility of the person hiring the room. I do not know the answer to this and I am seeking legal advice. In the meantime, no room hire should take place even if Government restrictions are lifted. I will let you have further information as soon as it is available.
