New Company Accountant

Margaret Cowie, Chairman writes:

The Council is very pleased to announce the appointment of a new Company Accountant for The General Conference. Interviews for this position took place at Purley Chase in late March and the appointment was confirmed shortly afterwards.

The new Accountant, whose employment commenced on the 1st April, is Mrs Rachael Jaggs.

Mrs Jaggs lives in Tamworth and she will work mainly from home, but occasionally from Purley Chase, on a part-time basis of 32 hours per week. She can be contacted at rachael.jaggs@generalconference.org.uk

On behalf of the Council and the whole Conference, I extend to her our good wishes for health and happiness in her new post.

Seaburn Dene Craft Service

Lynne Griffiths writes:

Seaburn Dene New Church met in March for an informal craft service focussed upon families. Heather Taylor and Hazel Nicholls led a short worship before Easter crafts began and a chance to socialise and catch up as a church family.

To celebrate our church family a new banner was made using the congregations hands which have been joined in a circle to show the fellowship and togetherness that a church family brings. On Sunday we were able to hang our new banner at the front of of the church and we are very thankful for the skills and talents amongst our members which have made this possible. A lovely start to the spring and Easter season.
