Children's Day 2023

Carolyn Kennion (NCYA President), writes:

Each year the New Church Youth Association invites church members and friends to use their time of worship one Sunday to focus on children.

We suggest setting aside Sunday 15th January to be Children's Day in 2023. However, if another Sunday is more convenient for you please make that your Children's Day. We ask you to do this whether or not you have children in your congregation or family; we can all pray for children and their carers and teachers.

Below is a link to suggestions for worship, including a message/talk from the NCYA president. Please could you make sure that whoever is leading worship on or around 15th January is given the suggestions sheet well ahead and is asked to include all or some of the material in their service.

The NCYA council would love to hear about how you marked Children's Day – at church or in your home.

General Conference on Facebook

Muriel Morgan writes:

If you would like to share something happening in your Congregation, please send a message to muriel.morgan@generalconference.org.uk with the pictures and a short description of the event. This will go on the GCNC Facebook page – please ensure all parties on the pictures have agreed to appear online. Thank you.
