Poppy Project 2025

Lynne Griffiths writes:

Last year Seaburn Dene New Church engaged the community in a new event - the poppy project. This saw hundreds upon hundreds of plastic bottles have their ends cut off and then painted red with a black middle to turn them into poppies. We invited the community to the church to paint the poppies then they were tied together and displayed around many streets in the area in the week leading up to Remembrance Day on lampposts, barriers and posts.

The community coming together to remember and respect those who have given so much for each one of us or continue to do so.

This year sees the return of the poppy project and we are asking for more donations of plastic bottle ends (both big and small) as we seek to make our display bigger and better than last years! If you would like to be involved, please consider saving bottle ends and then donate them to us at conference in the summer. We really appreciate everybody's help and can't wait to see this year's display!

Online Bible Study

Jan Millar is leading the next Online Bible Study session on Tuesday 10th June from 7.30 to 8.45pm. It will be looking at Acts Chapter 10 and part of Chapter 11. It will deal particularly with the two accounts of Peter's vision which opens up Christianity to the Gentiles rather than it being just another Jewish sect. The session will explore how this passage fits in with Swedenborgian teaching and also its relevance in our lives today. There will be scope for questions and discussions in breakout groups.

If you are planning to attend, the link for this particular session is available from Jan Millar at jan.millar@generalconference.org.uk.

Festival of Angels

A wonderful variety of angels are beginning to gather at Kearsley New Jerusalem Church in readiness for the Festival of Angels which will be held there between the 14th and 17th November.

Will you be sending more angels to join them?

If you are busy making angels or creating something else for the Festival please could you get them to Margaret Presland or Carolyn Kennion either during conference in July or by 1st August? This is to give us time to plan and assemble the displays and accompanying information.

Sincere thanks to everyone who has already contributed items for the Festival.

Margaret and Carolyn
